

The Critical Issues Seminar, Year 2007

A panel-led discussion on some of the key issues facing the civil engineering community in and around Philadelphia.

This year's event is sponsored by: The Engineers Club of Philadelphia, the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) Philadelphia Section, and the Younger Members Forum of ASCE. This year we'll discuss the debated relationship between:

POLITICS & ENGINEERING

- Discover how we, as engineers, are involved within the political process -
- Learn how public policy made in Washington D.C. affects our lives -
- Discuss funding issues and how they affect the engineering community -

Our distinguished panelists this year include:

- Brian T. Pallasch, CAE - ASCE National Director of Governmental Relations
- Eric L. Flicker, P.E. - Chief Financial Officer of Pennoni Associates Inc. & 1st Vice President of the Engineers Club of Philadelphia
- Spencer E. Finch, P.E. - Director of Sustainable Development, Pennsylvania Environmental Council
- Michael R. Boyer - Manager of the Office of Long-Range Planning and Congestion Management, Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission
